

VALOUR

-Saurya Karn

"A Free India" – That was your only passion.
For your motherland you gave tremendous contributions.
It's you who made India an independent nation.
We are obliged to you for your unforgettable sacrifices.

You never cared of your present and future.
It was your only first and last desire,
You left no stone unturned to save human creature.
But you did not hesitate to endure entire flames of fire.

Prisons kept you in captivity.
The gallows put you to death.
From slavery and thrall we gained liberty.
Your volition ultimately got triumph.

We salute to your fathomless valour.
We hail to your strenuous selfless efforts.
We bow to your indomitable will power.
For these all you always remain alive in our hearts.
